

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

SIOBHAN GENESSI,

Plaintiff,

v.

PLACER COUNTY SUPERIOR COURT,
et al.,

Defendants.

Case No. 2:23-cv-01054-DAD-JDP (PS)

ORDER

SCREENING PLAINTIFF'S COMPLAINT
AND GRANTING HER MOTION FOR AN EXTENSION OF TIME

ECF Nos. 10 & 11

RESPONSE DUE WITHIN THIRTY DAYS

Plaintiff Siobhan Genessi has filed a first amended complaint against the Placer County Superior Court, Judge Coleen Nichols, Placer County Child Protective Services, Placer County Counselors Kee Ana Smith and Roger Coffman, and Placer County CPS employee Hilary Trauth. Plaintiff alleges that her due process rights were violated both when her son was removed from her custody and during the pendency of the resulting custody proceeding. Her amended complaint continues to lack allegations sufficient to state a claim. I will give plaintiff a final chance to amend her complaint before recommending dismissal. I will also grant her motion for extension of time and deem her first amended complaint timely.

1 Screening and Pleading Requirements

2 A complaint must contain a short and plain statement that plaintiff is entitled to relief,
3 Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2), and provide “enough facts to state a claim to relief that is plausible on its 4 face,” Bell Atl. Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007). The plausibility standard does not
5 require detailed allegations, but legal conclusions do not suffice. See Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S.
6 662, 678 (2009). If the allegations “do not permit the court to infer more than the mere 7 possibility of misconduct,” the complaint states no claim. Id. at 679. The complaint need not
8 identify “a precise legal theory.” Kobold v. Good Samaritan Reg'l Med. Ctr., 832 F.3d 1024, 9 1038 (9th Cir. 2016). Instead, what plaintiff must state is a “claim”—a set of “allegations that 10 give rise to an enforceable right to relief.” Nagrampa v. MailCoups, Inc., 469 F.3d 1257, 1264
11 n.2 (9th Cir. 2006) (en banc) (citations omitted).

12 The court must construe a pro se litigant’s complaint liberally. See Haines v. Kerner, 404
13 U.S. 519, 520 (1972) (per curiam). The court may dismiss a pro se litigant’s complaint “if it
14 appears beyond doubt that the plaintiff can prove no set of facts in support of his claim which 15 would entitle him to relief.” Hayes v. Idaho Corr. Ctr., 849 F.3d 1204, 1208 (9th Cir. 2017).
16 However, ““a liberal interpretation of a civil rights complaint may not supply essential elements
17 of the claim that were not initially pled.”” Bruns v. Nat'l Credit Union Admin., 122 F.3d 1251, 18 1257 (9th Cir. 1997) (quoting Ivey v. Bd. of Regents, 673 F.2d 266, 268 (9th Cir. 1982)).

19 Analysis

20 As explained in detail in the court’s prior screening order, plaintiff brings this action
21 against several individuals and entities involved with her son’s child custody determination.
22 Plaintiff alleges that Placer County CPS misrepresented that they had a warrant when it removed 23 her son from her custody, but that it obtained a warrant the following day. Id. at 2. Plaintiff
24 claims that following her son’s removal, Placer County CPS worker Hilary Trauth and county
25 counselors Kee Ana Smith and Roger Coffman, made misrepresentations about her to the court.
26 Those misrepresentations, plaintiff alleges, ultimately lead to her loss of custody of her son. Id. at 27 2-6.
28

1           As an initial matter, Placer County Superior Court, Judge Nicolas, and county counselors
 2 Smith and Coffman, are immune from this suit.<sup>1</sup> Placer County Superior Court is an arm of the 3 state and thus cannot be sued in federal court pursuant to the Eleventh Amendment. See Simmons
 4 v. Sacramento Cnty. Superior Ct., 318 F.3d 1156, 1161 (9th Cir. 2003) (11th Amendment bars suit
 5 against state superior court and its employees); Franceschi v. Schwartz, 57 F.3d 828, 831 (9th
 6 Cir. 1995) (California municipal court is arm of state protected from lawsuit by 11th Amendment
 7 immunity). Plaintiff's claim against Judge Nicolas is also barred. State judges are absolutely 8 immune from civil liability for damages for acts performed in his or her judicial capacity.
 9 Pierson v. Ray, 386 U.S. 547, 553-55 (1967) (applying judicial immunity to actions under 42
 10 U.S.C. § 1983). Judicial immunity is an immunity from suit for damages, not just from an 11 ultimate assessment of damages. Mitchell v. Forsyth, 472 U.S. 511, 526 (1985). Finally, county
 12 counselors Smith and Coffman, who appear to have been acting as prosecutors, enjoy immunity
 13 from suits when they act within the scope of their prosecutorial duties. See Imbler v. Pachtman, 14 424 U.S. 409, 420 (1976). Because plaintiff attempts to impose liability for acts taken in the 15 county counsels' prosecutorial capacity, these claims fail.

16           The complaint generally alleges that plaintiff's civil rights were violated during the 17 pendency of the state court custody determination. But those claims violate Rooker-Feldman and 18 are thus barred. Noel v. Hall, 341 F.3d 1148, 1163-65 (9th Cir. 2003) (discussing Rooker-
 19 Feldman doctrine); see also Henrichs v. Valley View Dev., 474 F.3d 609, 616 (9th Cir. 2007) 20 (explaining that the Rooker-Feldman doctrine barred the plaintiff's claim because alleged legal 21 injuries arose from the "state court's purportedly erroneous judgment" and the relief he sought
 22 "would require the district court to determine that the state court's decision was wrong and thus 23 void"). The Rooker-Feldman doctrine divests federal district courts of jurisdiction to conduct
 24 direct reviews of final state court determination. See Worldwide Church of God v. McNair, 805
 25 F.2d 888, 890 (9th Cir. 1986) ("The United States District Court . . . has no authority to review
 26

27           <sup>1</sup> Plaintiff lists in the heading of her complaint several California Welfare and Institutions 28 codes and California Rules of Court. See ECF No. 12 at 1. However, the application of those codes and rules are not explained in the complaint and none create a basis for a cause of action.

1 the final determinations of a state court in judicial proceedings.”). Moreover, plaintiff’s
2 allegation that CPS employee Trauth made false statements to the state court are barred by
3 Rooker-Feldman because plaintiff had the opportunity to present this argument to the state court
4 before the court made its final determination. See Reusser v. Wachovia Bank, N.A., 525 F.3d 855,
5 859-60 (9th Cir. 2008).

6 The complaint also has the makings of a denial of familial association claim against Placer
7 County CPS. See Keates v. Koile, 883 F.3d 1228, 1236 (9th Cir. 2018). However, plaintiff does
8 not allege that any particular CPS worker removed her son without a warrant. CPS is considered
9 “merely [an] administrative unit[ ] of the state and ha[s] no capacity to be sued.” Smith v. Barrow
10 Neurological Institute, No. CV 10-01632-PHX-FJM, 2013 WL 526391, at *3 (D. Az. Feb. 12, 11 2013). “Municipalities and other local government units . . . [are] among those persons to whom 12 § 1983 applies.” Monell v. Dep’t of Soc. Servs., 436 U.S. 658, 690 (1978). However, a municipal 13 entity or its departments, is liable under § 1983 only if the plaintiff shows that his or her 14 constitutional injury was caused by employees acting pursuant to the municipality’s policy or 15 custom. See Villegas v. Gilroy Garlic Festival Ass’n, 541 F.3d 950, 964 (9th Cir. 2008).

16 While a municipal government, its officials, and organizations are generally immune from 17 suit when acting in their official capacity, immunity can be overcome if a plaintiff can show the 18 constitutional violation was caused by a custom or practice of the municipality. See id. (citing 19 Monell, 436 U.S. at 690-94). However, here, plaintiff’s complaint fails to allege any custom or 20 practice by CPS that deprived her of her constitutional rights. Moreover, plaintiff has only 21 alleged a single incident (the warrantless removal of her son). “A plaintiff cannot prove the 22 existence of a municipal policy or custom based solely on the occurrence of a single incident of 23 unconstitutional action by a non-policymaking employee.” Davis v. City of Ellensburg, 869 F.2d
24 1230, 1233 (9th Cir. 1989); see City of Oklahoma City v. Tuttle, 471 U.S. 808, 823–24 (1985)
25 (plurality opinion).

26 Thus, plaintiff has not stated a claim under § 1983 because CPS is not an appropriate 27 defendant acting under the color of state law and she has failed to plead a custom or policy of 28 wrongdoing.

1 I will allow plaintiff a chance to amend her complaint before recommending that this
2 action be dismissed. Plaintiff should also take care to add specific factual allegations against each
3 defendant. If plaintiff decides to file an amended complaint, the amended complaint will
4 supersede the current one. See Lacey v. Maricopa Cnty., 693 F.3d 896, 907 n.1 (9th Cir. 2012)
5 (en banc). This means that the amended complaint will need to be complete on its face without 6 reference to the prior pleading. See E.D. Cal. Local Rule 220. Once an amended complaint is 7 filed, the current one no longer serves any function. Therefore, in an amended complaint, as in 8 the original, plaintiff will need to assert each claim and allege each defendant's involvement in 9 sufficient detail. The amended complaint should be titled "Second Amended Complaint" and 10 refer to the appropriate case number. If plaintiff does not file an amended complaint, I will 11 recommend that this action be dismissed.

12 Accordingly, it is hereby ORDERED that:

13 1. Plaintiff's motion for an extension of time, ECF No. 11, is granted and her amended
14 complaint is deemed timely.

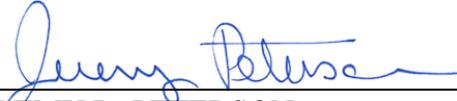

15 2. Within thirty days from the service of this order, plaintiff must either file an 16 amended complaint or advise the court she wishes to stand by her current complaint. If she 17 selects the latter option, I will recommend that this action be dismissed.

18 3. Failure to comply with this order will result in the dismissal of this action.

19 4. The Clerk of Court is directed to send plaintiff a new form complaint.
